BATH LIGHTING TRENDS

Today's bath is the fulfillment of one of our most heartfelt longings: a private refuge where we find sanctuary and a quiet escape from our busy lives. The spa bath is here to stay, blending natural elements and calming simplicity to create a refined space. Along with the clean lines of modern design, the warmth of traditional design elements continues to influence today's bath.

Ambient lighting sets the stage for relaxation, while task and accent lighting can accentuate your bath's design features. Lighting styles in an array of finishes allow you to coordinate your selections with plumbing fixtures and hardware – continuity helps create the relaxing environment you seek.

For all its potential as a retreat, the bath may be first and foremost a workspace for grooming. Correct lighting selection and placement is essential for seeing ourselves in our best light. A combination of overhead and side lighting helps approximate natural lighting, with vertical fixtures or sconces mounted on either side of the mirror being best for makeup and shaving. Be sure to position sconces to shed equal light on both sides of the face.

BATH LIGHTING

It's your private sanctuary, where the success of your day begins and its stresses are washed away. Whether your bath is an intimate retreat or a busy place of shared family time, the right lighting both calms and illuminates the tasks at hand.

Few rooms in your home set the stage for personal happiness like the bath, and few features play into that happiness like the quality of your lighting choices. Offered in a large selection of styles and finishes that coordinate with your hardware and plumbing fixtures, bath lighting from Park Harbor allows you to create both a stylish bath and a satisfying environment.

Whether you need to make efficient work of personal grooming or you're overdue for the relaxation of a long soak, lighting designs in a variety of configurations offer versatile solutions. From the sparkle of mirrored finishes and faceted lighting to the quiet reserve of brushed finishes and soft illumination, creating a beautiful mood couldn't be easier.
